Peace Parley Is Set Sunday Meet Is Arranged

TOKYO, July 5—A United Nations delegation, probably consisting of one South Korean and two American officers, is being prepared today to leave for Kaesong and meet a Communist group Sunday to arrange a cease-fire conference.

The prospective armistice that would end the ravaging Korean war was brought closer to reality Thursday morning when Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway accepted a Red proposal that July 8th be set as the date for a preliminary truce session.

The Allied supreme commander asked the Communists to radio assurance that three officers and two interpreters he will send to Kaesong Sunday be safeguarded from enemy fire as they fly or drive over Red-held territory.

By 10:30 Thursday night, the Chinese and North Korean Red radios had not yet broadcast the safe-conduct guarantee requested by Ridgway.

R. PORTS REACHING Hong Kong today said that General Lin Piao, commander of Communist China's military forces, now is in Moscow conferring with Marshal Rodion Malinovsky, Soviet Far East commander.

These reports said that the Chinese commander is receiving a final briefing on the scheduled truce talks.

At the U.S. Eighth Army's headquarters in Korea, meanwhile, a reliable source said Ridgway was planning to send to Sunday's preparatory Kaesong meeting a delegation composed of three colonels.

These would be one officer of the U.S. Marine Corps, one of the U.S. Airforce and one of the Republic of Korea (Rok) army, the source stated.

The Eighth Army man added that an American Army major also is slated to be sent to Kaesong Sunday, but as a liaison officer between the UN colonels and the Communist officers.

The major would not act as a negotiator.

At Ridgway's headquarters in Tokyo the chief of staff declared Thursday night that the names of the three officers to be sent as UN supreme commander's representatives are still "classified."

Legal Experts See No Loophole For Slots In Ohio

COLUMBUS, July 5—State Legal authorities said today that there is no loophole in Ohio's new slot machine law which would permit operation of the one-armed bandits by clubs or fraternal organizations.

Although declining to be quoted directly until the matter is more formally presented, the consensus of the experts is that a senate amendment, inserted just before the measure passed in the dying days of the legislature, would not apply to the exhibition of slot machines "for charitable purposes."

The senate amendment was inserted specifically to exempt the operation of bingo games, raffles and lotteries "for charitable purposes" from the mandatory provision of the new law which requires a one-to-five-year prison sentence for the possession, transportation or display of a slot machine.

13,000 Of Our Boys Are Dead

WASHINGTON, July 5—The Defense Department weekly summary of American casualties in Korea today showed a total of 78,110, an increase of 1,361 over last week.

The new total includes 11,564 killed in action; 54,312 wounded, of whom 1,327 have died; and 12,244 missing, of whom 109 are known to have died. The total dead is 13,000.

2 Major Considerations Holding Up Ohio Turnpike

COLUMBUS, July 5—Two big considerations stand today between Ohio and the construction of a 241-mile turnpike across the northern part of the state between Petersburg in Mahoning County and the Indiana line in Williams County.

These are:

1. Would such a project be within the national defense program?

2. Can the financing of the ultra-modern highway be set up to be attractive to the big bonding houses and investors?

Ohio Turnpike Commission Chairman James W. Shocknessy said after two engineering firms made their first reports on location and estimated revenues and

Medal Of Honor Is Awarded To Four Yankee GIs

WASHINGTON, July 5—President Truman today presented the Medal of Honor, the nation's highest military decoration, to four foot-soldier heroes of Korea and said it is because of men like them that "we will win the Cold War."

The four infantry men are Master Sgt. Stanley T. Adams of Olathe, Kans., Capt. Raymond Harvey of Pasadena, Calif., Sgt. Einar H. Ingman of Tomahawk, Wis., and Capt. Lewis L. Millett of Haverhill, Mass.

Mr. Truman was deeply moved during the ceremony which was held in the White House rose garden in the presence of top military figures including Defense Secretary Marshall.

In decorating the men, Mr. Truman called them the "backbones of the government of the United States," and added:

"You can always depend on them and men like them to put forth every effort and come through in an emergency. That's the reason we will win the Cold War; that's the reason we'll maintain the peace of the world; that's why we'll preserve this republic of ours."

Canuck Breeze Cooling Ohio

A high pressure system from Canada pushed into Ohio Thursday, bringing cooler temperatures in the wake of a storm center which visited the state briefly the Fourth of July.

"The cool air mass from the Great Lakes and Canada will send temperatures into the lower 60s today," the weather forecaster said Thursday morning, "and lows tonight will drop to the 50-55 degree mark."

The warm center which came into the state washed out picnics, damaged trees and flooded basements in the Greater Cleveland area.

NAM Urging Congress To Approve Federal General Tax On Sales

WASHINGTON, July 5—The National Association of Manufacturers urged Congress today to put a general sales tax at the factory level on all manufactured articles except food.

NAM President Charles R. Sligh Jr. told the tax-writing Senate Finance Committee that the tax is necessary to put federal spending on a pay-as-you-go basis for the remainder of the rearmament program.

Sligh told the group that a general sales tax would make unnecessary or sharply reduce the need for additional corporation and individual tax boosts.

At the same time, Sligh called for greater economies in non-defense federal spending and tobacco, he said, should remain separate from any new excise tax program the government may order.

"We insist that there will be a considerable amount of water in the 1953 budget which can and should be squeezed out."

Sligh declared that his organization was not going to tax increases "because we approve the prospective level of public spending."

He said "we are simply saying that if Congress is going to authorize the spending, it should levy the necessary covering taxes."

Present taxes on cigarettes and tobacco, he said, should remain separate from any new excise tax program the government may order.

Peace Talks Due Sunday

THE STATION quoted the Peiping newspaper "People's Daily" as saying a "peaceful settlement of the Korean issue" has become "possible" in view of the agreement to discuss a truce.

But the broadcast also declared that "the Korean war has not stopped" and that "the America aggressors still occupy Taiwan (Formosa) and are preparing for a separate peace with the rearming of Japan."

It quoted what it called a "China Peace Committee" as calling for the "continuation of aid in the Korean campaign" including "intensified efforts" to send to Korea more Chinese planes. It said 2,000 such planes already had been "donated" by the Chinese people to the Korean Communists.

The "peace committee" was quoted as echoing earlier "victory" claims made by North Korea's Pyongyang radio. The Peiping broadcast stated:

"The people's great patriotic movement has won such victories at the front that it has given pause to the American imperialists in Korea."

Allied quarters interpreted these statements as a sugar-coating propaganda campaign by the Red leaders to prepare their people for possible settlement of the Korean conflict, short of the enemy's earlier proclaimed goal. The latter had been defined in Red broadcasts as a smashing of all UN forces in Korea.

At Seoul airport, the largest American helicopter in Korea was ready to take the UN delegation to the site of the preparatory truce meeting.

IN THE EVENT of poor flying weather, the group will proceed to Kaesong in their jeeps flying big white flags.

Whether by helicopter or jeep, the trip is scheduled—by pre-arrangement—to begin at 9 o'clock Sunday morning (6 p.m. Saturday EST).

The fear was voiced in Tokyo circles that the Reds at Kaesong may demand not only the withdrawal of Allied as well as Chinese forces from Korea, but also the removal of the UN Commission for Korea.

Such a development, if agreed to, might leave the whole Asian peninsula country at the mercy of North Korea's reorganized and strengthened Red army, it was pointed out.

Despite such misgivings, everything was made ready for the beginning of peace conversations at ancient Kaesong, the capital of the medieval Korean kingdom.

The stage for the initial truce session was set when Ridgway messaged the enemy commanders, acceding to their proposal that the meeting take place Sunday instead of Thursday, as proposed by the UN military chief.

Ridgway's message, broadcast over numerous UN transmitters to Red China and North Korea, made only one minor change in the agreed plans for the Kaesong preliminary meeting which will pave the way for formal truce talks in the same city next week.

Burglars Take Television Set

Another Pickaway County farmhouse was broken into by thieves and robbed of a television set Wednesday.

Sheriff Charles Radcliff reported Thursday that the Harley A. Inehart farmhouse on Lockbourne Route 1 was broken into Wednesday and a $348 television set was removed.

Theft of the Rinehart TV set brought to three the number of sets stolen from farm homes in the county during the last few weeks.

In addition, the thieves stole three pocketbooks, which contained some small change and three silver dollars.

Thieves Enter River Boathouse

Circleville police Thursday reported that the boathouse along Scioto River just west of the city was entered by thieves last weekend.

Officer Turney Ross said thieves broke into the boathouse and removed a portable cartop boat and oars and a complete set of keys to the boathouse.

The boat, owned by Jack Miller of 904 South Pickaway street, later was recovered from a willow grove about 300 yards north of the bridge.

Young Eaton was graduated this year by Logan high school.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Boggs of East Franklin street received word Monday that their son, Robert C. Boggs, is stationed near the city of Inje, Korea, about 10 miles from the 38th parallel. He is with the 1st Marine division in the medical section.

Mrs. Augustus Watts of 1028 South Court street was admitted to Berger hospital Wednesday as a medical patient.

Miss Esther McKenzie of Circleville Route 4 entered Berger hospital Wednesday as a medical patient.

Correction

It was incorrectly reported Tuesday in the Circleville Herald that Gordon Quince, 26, of Circleville Route 2, was fined and sentenced here on an accusation of assault and battery filed by his wife. Actually, the complainant was Mrs. Ruby Quince, ex-wife of the man she accused. The couple was divorced last year.

WILSON DECLARED

that the Korea war is "but an episode" in the long-term struggle to "win a genuine and lasting world peace."

Mr. Truman said one of the most difficult tasks is that of organizing Civil Defense. He declared that many Americans are still "skeptical and tardy" in this field because they have never had to undergo bombings.

The chief executive labeled as "prophets of doom" people who say that "we cannot stick to a hard, tough policy of self-denial and self-control long enough to win the struggle." Mr. Truman declared:

"I think these prophets of doom are wrong. I think the whole history of our country proves they are wrong. I believe the last few months show that we will not be stampeded into war, or broken up by distrust and fear."

Eckard was fined on an affidavit filed by Edward Gallaher following an accident at the intersection of Main street and Route 22 in Williamsport last Thursday.

COUNCIL APPROVES SIGNAL

Solon And His Toy Fail To Stop New Traffic Light

To the accompaniment of flashing red and green lights, Circleville city council Tuesday passed an ordinance to install a traffic signal at the intersection of Washington and Main streets.

The flashing lights were provided by Councilman Walden Reichelderfer, who manipulated a toy battery-operated traffic signal.

Reichelderfer was the only legislator to cast a negative vote.

Another councilman, George Crites, voted what he termed "a weak yes."

In the discussion prior to the vote Councilman Ray Cook said:

"There's a part of this ordinance I like and a part that I don't like. The part I don't like has to do with the $750 cost of installation."

HE EXPLAINED that if the light was synchronized with other traffic signals on Main street, the wiring expense plus the cost of the signal itself would total about $750.

Cook pointed out that it would be possible to install a control box for the light on a post and operate it separately, without hooking it into the synchronization system.

"But it will only be a matter of time before we will have to have more lights on Washington street. Possibly we will have to have as many as there are on Pickaway street."

"Motorists find this confusing," he declared.

Councilman Boyd Horn opined that no change should be made. He recommended placing tall stop signs on Ohio street at its intersection with Washington.

The matter was referred to the service committee for study.

Marine Pilot Gets Night Kill

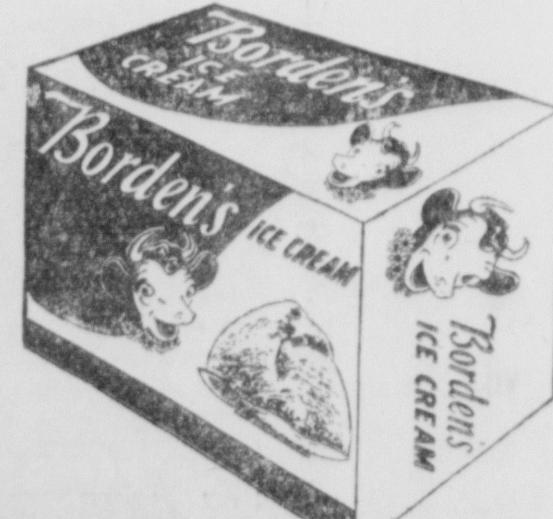

WASHINGTON, July 5—Capt. Edwin B. Long of Costa Mesa, Calif., has been credited with the first nighttime "kill" of an enemy aircraft by a Marine pilot in the Korean war.

Long, 29, reported bagging an artificated black biplane over friendly territory northwest of Seoul shortly after 1 a. m. July 1.

Marine headquarters in Washington said it also marks the first "kill" for the F7F "Tigercat"—a twin-engined night fighter which was developed too late for action in World War II.

Councilmen Cast Unanimous 'No' Against Exemption

A bill to exempt Chester Blue from paying a fee for tapping a sanitary sewer on Atwater avenue came up for third and final reading in Circleville city council Tuesday.

Six councilmen were present to hear the reading.

All six voted "no."

The ordinance was submitted by City Solicitor George Gerhardt, who explained that the Blues had furnished material for installation of a sanitary sewer in an alley at the east end of Seyfert Addition.

The sewer begins about 25 feet south of Seyfert avenue and runs about 112 ft. south, connecting with a city-owned sewer in the alley between Seyfert Addition and Collins Court.

After the vote Tuesday, Councilman E. L. Montgomery remarked:

"That's the first time I've ever heard everybody in council vote 'no' on an ordinance."

Councilman Ray Anderson was not present to cast a vote.

Church Property Sale Approved

Sale of real estate by the Women's Society of Christian Service of Commercial Point Methodist church has been approved by Judge Earl D. Parker in Pickaway County common pleas court.

The property was sold for $370 to W. E. Lamb and Oren Lawless. It consisted of a small building and lot in Commercial Point.

Vote on the bill was five to one, with Councilman Boyd Horn registering the negative. It was

Child Problems and Solutions

By GARRY CLEVELAND MYERS, Ph.D.

Pathetic is the child who can't be happy out of the mother's presence. Of her daughter, 3 1/2, the mother writes:

"Dear Dr. Myers: She doesn't want to leave me out of her sight, won't play outside with any of her favorite friends, and at night gets up at twelve o'clock just to see that I am there. 'I don't know if I am wrong, but I've never left her with any baby sitter either during the day or night. I'm constantly with her.'

"She's a very sensitive child and keeps telling me that she wants to be with me—although

Tiny Navy Ship Is Clocked More Than 1500 Mph.

LOS ANGELES, July 5 — A tiny needle-nosed airplane, 40 feet long and with a wing span of only 25 feet, has written a new chapter into the age-old struggle of man to increase his speed of propulson.

The navy has disclosed that a Douglas Skyrocket, a swept-wing sonic research plane, had smashed all known records for speed and altitude.

The rocket-powered craft, launched from a "mother B-29" in flight, reportedly traveled faster than twice the speed of sound or more than 1,500 miles per hour, and reached an altitude "well above" the recognized record top of 63,000 feet.

The Navy said security regulations made it impossible to release the exact speed and altitude the skyrocket achieved last June 11 at Edwards Airforce Base near Muroc, Cal., but said they were "unprecedented."

Piloting the tiny supersonic ship on its historic flight was Bill Bridgeman, 34-year-old test pilot, who had handled the skyrocket's controls in all of its major tests. Bridgeman said:

"THERE IS absolutely no feeling of piercing the sonic barrier and going higher and faster than anyone else. The plane is so perfectly built that it is as if one were spanning the country in an airliner—without those occasional bumps."

"I have made about 70 flights for the rocket ship—10 of those by dropping from a B-29 mother ship at 35,000 feet."

The first piloted plane to crack the sonic barrier of 763 miles per hour was the Bell X-1, which, in 1947, flew at a reported 1000-1200 miles per hour at approximately 63,000 feet.

Shah's Surgery Is Successful

TEHRAN, July 5—Shah Mohammed Riza Pahlevi's appendix was removed today in an operation by an American surgeon, Dr. Frank Glenn.

The operation, originally described as also of an exploratory nature, was termed successful.

Three other American specialists were in attendance with Dr. Glenn, chief surgeon of New York hospital, during the surgery in Mellini Bank hospital in Tehran.

Next Step In City Zoning Plan: Holding Of A Public Hearing

Circleville city council Tuesday started action anew on a bill to divide the city into five zones.

The city fathers listened to first reading by title only of the amended zoning bill. Then they authorized Council Clerk Fred Nicholas to advertise a notice of a public hearing on the original bill:

1. Strike provisions permitting the erection of churches, lodges and private clubs in residential areas.

2. Change the south side of Edison avenue from a commercial zone to a residential zone. The north side is in an industrial zone.

3. Change the administrative officer from the city engineer to the city service director.

The ordinance would set up residential, commercial, industrial and unrestricted zones. The plan was prepared by the city planning commission, first submitted to council May 15.

Council held up action on the original zoning bill after they discovered that a state statute requires the 30-day period of advertising and the public hearing.

The bill was up for third and final reading last council meeting when the information was passed on to them by City Solicitor George Gerhardt.

And by leave her with this person while you and Dad walk to the corner drugstore or to a neighbor's for fifteen or twenty minutes, and longer later. Expect her to resist these ways and to cry after you, but go with dispatch and no ceremony, having clearly announced your plans beforehand. Try to have the same skillful person to leave her with when you go out alone or with your husband.

In the meanwhile, you, sometimes and Dad, some times, should set the stage so this child will play alone with one other child and later with more of them. Make this procedure very gradual. It might help to begin by attracting one of these children to your premises. Spanish War Vet Back To Regain U.S. Citizenship

NEW YORK, July 5 — A 71-year-old Spanish-American War veteran returned to the United States yesterday after 40 years abroad and declared he wants to live long enough to become an American citizen again.

There Volling remained until 1911 when he decided to return to his native land and become again a German citizen.

The American flag he carried as he came down the Veendam's gangplank was made in 1934 and flown beside his Brunswick, Germany, home until July 4, 1935, when the Nazis ordered him to take it down.

The old soldier, Otto Volling, first came to this country from Germany in 1896 and was immediately recruited for the fight against Spain.

He served in Cuba and later in the Philippines, where he contracted malaria and was retired to the Soldiers Home in Washington.

HEAVEN ON EARTH

IN A world distorted by war and international hatred there are still examples of human kindness to show that mankind has not lost all sense of consideration for the other fellow.

Members of a church at Tonkawa, Okla., are getting ready to welcome new neighbors. These new citizens are displaced persons, a Hungarian family which has survived the tortures of concentration camps, the miseries of war, and is coming to a new home in America.

And what a home it will be. A house has been purchased and is being repaired and improved by donated labor. The yard is being landscaped, and inside and out the home will be a thing of beauty and efficiency.

A garden has been planted, flowers will be blooming, and the family which has known only misery in recent years will find everything in readiness.

If there is such a thing as a heaven on earth the new arrivals will think they have reached it when they move into their new home in Tonkawa, to live among people who are the best neighbors on earth.

PANIC A BOMB HAZARD

CIVILIAN Defense now being emphasized for the nation has as its principal purpose safety of the populace in case of an attack by bombs. Ever since Hiroshima there has been fear that the principal cities of this country might suffer similar attacks by bombs more devastating than those dropped on the Japanese. The military has been frank in saying some enemy bombers would get through the best aerial defense.

For that reason Civilian Defense measures have been aimed at advising citizens what to do in such cases, together with organizing for fire and other results which would follow.

The people have been oversold on the dangers of bomb attacks, and the hazards will subside when the facts become known. But the panic which would result because the people have been made hysterical by constant fear of bomb attacks can hardly be prevented without long and persistent education.

THREAT TO INDUSTRY

THERE is pending in Congress a proposed amendment to the Defense Production Act by which the government would be empowered to build plants to manufacture, process, produce and market products. That takes in the whole category of production, not merely defense production.

It should not be necessary to point out that this would be a crippling blow to pri-

George E. Sokolsky's

These Days

It is not really important, so far as the Korean war is concerned, whether we call the troops who fought against us Chinese Communists or Chinese Volunteers. It was Soviet China that on Nov. 6 invaded Korea with the object of fighting the United States. As Dean Acheson put it, their object was to fight their way into the United Nations.

In a broader sense, the use of the term "volunteers" adds to all the new confusions that Soviet Russia has drawn from the Marxist Pandora's box. Instead of a country having allies, who are responsible, it calls for volunteers, which a nation may provide, without responsibility.

This concept appeared in the Spanish Civil War, the Fascists and Nazis supporting one side; Russia supporting the other. It was, in effect, an experimental war, each side testing its strength and methods against the other. The Fascists, Nazis and Communists were volunteers in that war; so were the airplanes, tanks, arms and munitions. When the anti-Communists won and the regime now headed by Franco was set up, neither Italy, Germany nor Russia assumed any responsibility.

Now this concept is being fictitiously applied to the discussions concerning the Korean situation. Soviet China came into it as a volunteer. Although North Korea was defeated, Soviet China entered the war, prolonged it, made an American victory impossible, created havoc within the United Nations, and now takes the position that it was a volunteer—that, in fact, each individual Chinese soldier in that war was a volunteer.

Now we are about to enter upon prolonged negotiations with Soviet China on the very questions which Soviet Russia has been demanding since 1948. The questions may be summarized as follows:

1. To obtain a seat in the United Nations as the only recognized government in China;

2. To be permitted to occupy Formosa and to abolish the Nationalist government, headed by Chiang Kai-shek;

3. Succession to China's permanent seat on the Security Council of the United Nations;

4. The elimination of the United States from Asiatic affairs;

5. A seat at the conference for a treaty with Japan.

In pursuit of these policies, Soviet Russia boycotted the United Nations for six and one-half months. They conducted a worldwide phony peace campaign. They actually supplied a nation with the weapons of war, despite the assumption of the responsibility for that war by the United Nations. Having tested the persistence, if not the strength, of the United States, they have now assumed the peace offensive.

This is a moment of a show of real power in the diplomatic field. We must not lose.

vate enterprise. Industrial labor unions are powerful in the administration's councils. Some labor leaders baldly propose to oust management and let labor operate industry. The object of course is nationalization of industry, such as England has undertaken.

Let the government become established in industry and there will be no turning back. The whole future of the American economic system turns on that point.

Style, Food And Home Crafts Judging And Revues To Be Held In Coliseum

Miss Alley, Two Others To Judge

Following project grading in the 26 4-H Club groups, that have completed work in sewing and cooking, will be style revue and judging to begin July 13 in Pickaway Fairgrounds Coliseum.

The style, home crafts, and food revue will get underway at 9 a.m. Friday when three classes, Let's Sew, Articles to Use and Wear, and Home Crafts will be judged.

At 11:30 a.m. the girls will model their garments and show articles they have made.

From 1:30 p.m. until 3 p.m. Friday three more classifications will be inspected. They will be School Dress, I and II, Cotton Dress, and Undergarments.

This judging session will be followed by a style revue with club members modeling their dresses and other garments.

Judging will be resumed the following Monday, July 16, also at the coliseum, when four classes—Sports Clothes, Dress Up Dress, Tailored Costume and Complete Costume—will be shown to the judges. This session will begin at 9 a.m. and continue until 11 a.m. when all garments will be modeled by the girls making them.

Food revue will be held from 2 until 2:45 p.m. July 16. At that time tray lunches will be judged on the basis of balance, attractiveness, and practicability.

Miss Genevieve Alley, local home demonstration agent, said that "a tray lunch, to be attractively arranged, must contain at least one article of food prepared in the club food project."

Miss Alley, along with Miss Eva Kinsey of the state 4-H office and Miss Helen McTavish of Utica, will act as judges for both the clothing and food shows.

Winners in these project competitions will be eligible to compete in the state fair exhibits.

All of the winning garments and many others completed by Pickaway County club members, will also be on exhibition at Pickaway County Fair.

'NORBODY LOVES THEM'Truckers Say They Want To Be Friendly On Road

COLUMBUS, July 5—A group of 3,500 Ohio truck companies have announced a triple-plated program designed to take the steam out from under the collars of the nation's motorists.

The trucking industry knows it is in the same classification as the fat men. Nobody loves them. But the Ohio Trucking Association has started on a three-way program to win friends and influence motorists.

It is the first such program in the country, and OTA President Kenneth C. Herriott of East Palestine hopes it will be adopted by the American trucking associations and spread until auto drivers cheer instead of jeer when they see a semi.

The OTA plans to sell its 25,000 truck drivers to the public through courtesy and safety. Its brand new public relations project calls for a "share the road" program, a trucker's "secret service" and free drivers tests for truck jockeys and the public.

IN THE FIRST phase of the job, the OTA plans to distribute 100,000 transfer decals in the

Sewer Services May Cost More Outside City

An ordinance establishing rules and procedure for extending storm and sanitary sewers to new real estate subdivisions near the city was passed by Circleville city council Tuesday.

The bill requires installation of all sewers to be made under the supervision and inspection of the service director or his representative.

For the privilege of connecting the sewers to the city sewer system, a fee of $10 will be charged.

The bill provides a penalty for failure to enter into a proposed agreement on all connections to the sanitary or storm sewer systems.

Also Tuesday the city fathers instructed City Solicitor George Gerhardt to prepare legislation for increasing the sewage rates of persons living outside the city and tapped on to the city sanitary sewer system.

The subject was brought up by Councilman George Crites who suggested that the sewage rates be the same as within the city "plus a percentage increase for being outside the corporation limits."

He said the increase could be the difference between city and township tax rates.

Declaration Is Signed Again In Celebration

PHILADELPHIA, July 5—The historic signing of the Declaration of Independence was re-enacted in Independence Hall yesterday as the nation hailed the 175th anniversary of the document.

Within the shrine, red walls, actors impersonating Benjamin Franklin, Thomas Jefferson, John Hancock and other Colonial figures once again affixed their signatures to a guarantee of "life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness."

More than 100 men, women and children took part in the pageant enacting the signing. Among them were Shakespearean Actors Oliver Thorndike and Garrardine.

Sen. James H. Duff, (R) Pa., keyed the celebration with a call for a four-point program of tolerance, understanding, unity and strength to meet the present world turmoil.

The Pennsylvania junior senator branded Russia and Communism as the greatest menaces to freedom today, declaring:

"By intimidation, by deportation, by terror and threat, by purge and persecution, Russia has ground under the iron heel of tyranny most of her neighbors."

next month, for application on the rear ends of trucks. The e signs say, "please, not too close. Allow room for passing."

The clever part of the idea is that they do not mention trucks, recalling that nasty word to the public mind, although they are aimed at ending the practice of "tailgaiting," or convoying a long line of trucks across the country, bumper to bumper. But the drivers will get the idea.

The "secret service" plan comes in an industrial self-police policy whereby safety violation report forms will be placed in the private autos of every company owner and his top brass.

These men will report any safety violation seen on the part of any driver for any firm to the OTA which will notify the company it is guilty of a practice which is harmful to the industry.

The public also will be invited to take part in the program by notifying the OTA or the company of any safety violations. All OTA asks is that the letters contain as much pertinent information as possible. It can do nothing about a complaint which does not give the name of the truck company, the true license number, or the time and place of the alleged violation.

OTA'S FINAL friendly gesture will be made from a huge white semi-trailer completely fitted with all the latest sight and reflex testing equipment. This mobile, driver-testing laboratory will tour Ohio, testing all truck drivers who volunteer. The tests also will be given, free, to the public one or two days a week.

As another part of the OTA courtesy program, Herriott said drivers will be urged to "lay over to the right" at all times and particularly on hills.

After a long, slow haul to the top of a hill, drivers will be asked to either stop at the side of the road or proceed slowly so the cars which have lined up behind can pass.

Herriott admitted this would cost the companies money because it will lengthen their running schedules, but he said he is sure they will consider it money well spent.

The truckers are going out after friends.

Looking Ahead

By George Benson
President
Hardin College

The Little Rock chapter of the unique nationwide brotherhood called "Alcoholics Anonymous" has discovered some interesting things about security. Any one of the approximately 1,000 chronic alcoholics who have recovered through association and work with the chapter will tell you that security is a state of mind. Each has found that material riches alone do not bring happiness or security.

There are some lessons for everyone in the experiences of these alcoholics who have pieced together and brought back to useful service in society so many blasted lives.

In the entire nation an estimated $50,000 alcoholic recoveries have been achieved through the AA program. Most had been considered "hopeless cases" by their doctors, families and friends. An acquaintance of mine was one of three men—all alcoholics—who established AA in Little Rock in 1940. The facts in this column were obtained from him.

The Little Rock AA's discovered early that an alcoholic prized a job above all else even though he couldn't hold a job long. He clung to this imagined haven of economic security as if it were his whole world; and yet all that it gave him was money to buy alcohol to further his own destruction through periodic sips or prolonged day-after-day drinking.

THE LITTLE ROCK AA'S made a rule 10 years ago which prevented a man working while going through his two weeks basic program. He had to get a leave-of-absence or resign.

"You should have seen some of these people," said my AA acquaintance, "when we told them, after getting them sober, that they'd have to quit work for two weeks. Their jaws would drop. They'd speak of their children who had to be fed; of their debtors who were crowding them; of their rent overdue and of a hundred other reasons—some plausible—why they shouldn't quit work. When we insisted, many balked and broke contact with AA."

"Well, these people who once felt that money was so important today make up about a fourth of our Little Rock group. But they had to go back to their jobs and get fired because of alcoholism before returning to AA with a dawning understanding of what was, for them, the more important things."

"As long as they put job or money or anything else in the world first, we couldn't make them understand the importance of recovery, and thus accept into their life the guidance and influence and strength of a 'higher power.'

"Once in AA, their understanding grew, they developed humility and a reliance on the 'higher power,' and began to find serenity, which is, to we people in AA, the only kind of security that means anything."

The AA's learned a significant lesson too in the realm of handouts and benefits. "At first," acquaintance related, "we underwrote the livelihood of our do-and-out AA neophytes. We handed them pocket money, paid for their lodging and meals at laundry. But we found that in doing this we were letting our hearts run away with our heads."

"IT DIDN'T WORK. For their own sakes we cut out babying these people. We'd checked up and found that only one or two out of about 50 to whom we'd given the handouts came through the program successfully. That, and subsequent experience, proved to us that from the very beginning we had to teach these people to stand on their own feet. As a matter of fact, one of the fundamental causes of their alcoholism was that they'd been petted and spoiled—in many cases made chronically dependent by overindulgent parents."

These experiences of the AA's would seem to give further proof to two basic truths of life:

(1) In the pursuit of happiness and the development of peace-of-mind, man's spiritual growth is of paramount importance; (2) unearned handouts are habits.

forming and weaken man's normal characteristics.

Thus the political philosophy which makes its appeal through handouts, of the promise of cradle-to-grave security without consideration of individual effort, would tear down rather than build up the human race, and would ultimately destroy the happiness that is in store for all of us who will make the necessary effort to earn it.

Negotiations for a cease-fire order in Korea have moved into an active stage today, with the British government already talking about an agreement for exchange of prisoners.

But speculation still is heavy as to why Communist China rejected indirectly the proposal of Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway for a peace meeting at the east coast Korean port of Wonsan.

Most attempted explanations have put this down to Oriental "face-saving" admittedly an always present factor in negotiations dealing with the Far East.

On the face of it, this seems plausible. Wonsan has been the target of the United States Navy and United Nations air forces for weeks.

It was one of the most vital points in the chain of communications from Vladivostok, Dairen and Port Arthur down to the Korean peninsula and one of Gen. Douglas MacArthur's last decisions before his removal from supreme command was that it must be destroyed.

THE TOTAL TONNAGE of bombs and naval shells unleashed against the rail networks and supply depots of Wonsan has never been estimated. But it is a safe assumption that when photographers go ashore to film the remains of a once-thriving city, their pictures will class in the top no. category.

In place of Wonsan, the Communists offered to meet at Kaesong, in the so-called "no man's land" near the 38th Parallel—itself a scene of utter destruction. The reason may lie in the fact that Kaesong is a former capital of Korea, a once attractive town of thatched cottages and stone fortresses ringed around by hills.

Like all the other main settlements of Korea, including Seoul and the Communist capital of Pyongyang, it has disappeared.

It's Certainly A Small River

NEW YORK, July 5—It was a hot and humid Fourth of July in Brooklyn and Joe Finley was celebrating his 21st birthday with Bill Olsen.

They decided to swim the East river. Part-way across Bill turned back. Finley, meanwhile, got to midstream and then was swept north two miles by the current. Exhausted, he hauled a tug and was hauled aboard. The captain eyed the dripping youth and said, "well, it's certainly a small river."

The captain was Hildred Finley, Joe's father.

Big Four Sets Talks In Berlin

BERLIN, July 5—Representatives of the Allied Western powers and Russia meet today for trade negotiations in Berlin for the first time since July, 1949.

The meeting was arranged following acceptance by Sergei A. Dengin, Berlin representative of the Soviet Control Commission, of an invitation made June 27.

The discussions relating to a resumption of normal flow of trade from Berlin to Western Germany will take place in the British sector of the former German capital.

Accidental Shot Wounds Woman

COLUMBUS, July 5—A 23-year-old Columbus woman was shot accidentally by her husband early today.

Police said Douglas Gordon, 28, was examining his .45 caliber automatic pistol about 12:20 a.m. when the weapon was discharged accidentally. The bullet went through the left forearm of his wife, Joyce, and entered her abdomen.

Mrs. Gordon was taken to University hospital where attendants said she was in fair condition.

Nationalists Fear Red Heax

HONG KONG, July 5—A dispatch to the independent newspaper Wah Kiu Yat Po said today that observers on the Nationalist stronghold of Formosa believe that the cease-fire proposal for Korea is a Communist hoax.

The dispatch from Taipai said that general belief on the island is that the proposal, originating with Russia, is aimed at the disintegration of United Nations fighting morale.

Roks Promise No Defiance

PUSAN, July 5—A South Korean government spokesman has declared that President Syngman Rhee has no intention of calling upon his army and people to defy any cease-fire order that may be issued by the United Nations supreme command.

He said the Rok government was merely stating its position in advance concerning cease-fire conditions still being considered and which will come under discussion at next week's formal armistice meeting in Kaesong just below Parallel 38.

Burglars Set Trio Of Fires

COLUMBUS, July 5—Police reported that frustrated burglars set three fires early today in West Columbus—in a service station, television and radio repair shop and in a public library.

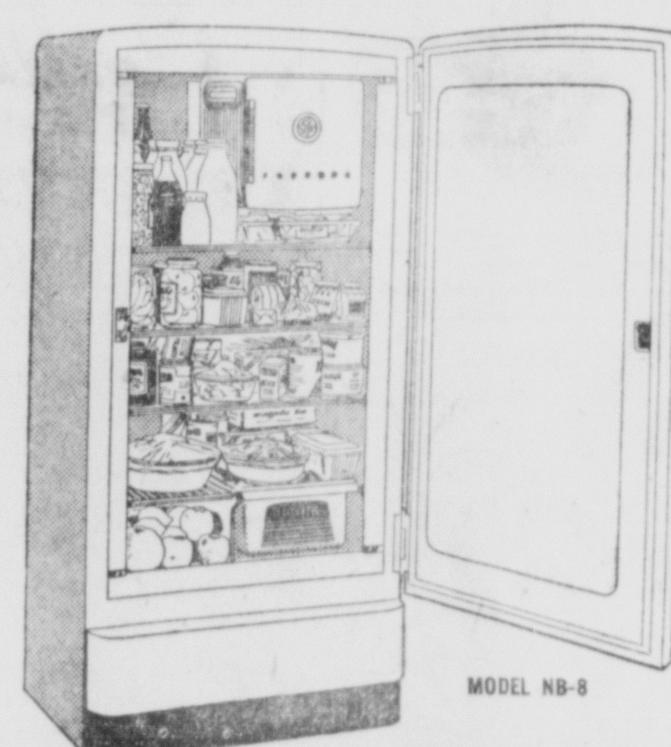

Firemen quickly brought the blazes under control, but there were no estimates of the losses.

Another is the renewed charge that American "imperialism" was the cause of the whole tragedy.

And a third is the propagandistic demand that alleged "war criminals" of the UN be brought book and punished.

These all are matters that eventually can be turned over to the International Court of Justice in The Hague—with verdicts that easily can be surmised in advance. The important thing at the moment is that a chain of events has been set in motion that—barring unforeseen upsets—will return some measure of peace to a troubled world.

Man Kills Wife In 'Self Defense'

PORTSMOUTH, July 5—Murder charges are to be filed today against a 39-year-old man who admitted shooting his wife, the mother of three children, in "self defense."

Scioto County Sheriff Burl Justice identified the man as Paul Burke, 39, of nearby Franklin Furnace.

Burke was quoted as saying he shot his wife, Tennessee Evans Burke, 35, when she came to him at the door with the pistol and said, "don't come in or I'll shoot you."

Editors' Roundtable

"Editors' Roundtable" is a twice-a-week release based on a study of an average of about 150 daily newspaper editorial pages. The major issue of the day is analyzed and digested, passed on to readers as a survey of opinion from the nation's leading editors. It is the "voice of the press."

SCHOOL SEGREGATION

Editors, in substantial majority, think the Supreme Court, in reviewing the case brought by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People to end public school segregation in South Carolina, will clarify its rulings on segregation in graduate schools. These editors think the 2 to 1 decision of a special federal court supporting public school segregation will be upheld. A small minority questions how the Supreme Court will distinguish between graduate and grade schools on the issue of "intangible advantages." A rather large minority of editors reserves opinion as to how the Court may rule in this case.

DES MOINES Register (Ind.-Rep.): "A federal court in South Carolina has ruled that states can properly enforce segregated school systems. The decision stated, however, that South Carolina will have to equalize the facilities of white and colored public schools. The key question is thus dumped in the lap of the Supreme Court: Can segregated schools ever be equal? . . . In ruling on the higher education cases in Texas and Oklahoma . . . the court considered such intangible things as reputation of the school in addition to the physical size of libraries and the amount of equipment."

HARTFORD Courant (Rep.): "The court held that Negro law school candidates in Oklahoma and Texas must be given facilities equal to those of whites, or be admitted to the white schools. But the court shied away from upsetting any of the precedents on which the general doctrine of 'separate but equal' facilities rests. Nor did the court reaffirm that theory, even though in essence it fell back on it to hold that the facilities offered the plaintiff students were not equal to those in the long established state universities. Neither side in the present case has any grounds for confidence as to what the decision will be."

WASHINGTON Star (Ind.): "Texas has made a sincere effort to provide a substantially equal law school for Negroes. But a unanimous court . . . enumerated a series of tests of equality which, for practical purposes, indicate that it is impossible for any state to provide a separate but equal law school. The decision referred only to 'professional and graduate education' in state-supported institutions. However, it is not easy to see how the court can make any substantial distinction between graduate education and the lower public schools."

NORFOLK Dispatch (Ind.-Dem.): "The court in Charleston . . . held that while segregation may mean inequality almost inevitably in professional schools, it need not mean inequality in

Connecticut Plagued By Too Many Judges

HARTFORD, Conn., July 5.—Sixty-seven Connecticut cities and towns had two judges today for every lower court bench—and it was no bargain, just a political headache.

One set of judges is Republican, the other Democratic. The Republicans were appointed last week by Gov. Lodge to replace the Democrats. But the Democrats refused to quit.

The dispute stems from the failure of the 1949 and 1951 state general assemblies to set definite terms for the judges.

This is the second time around for Connecticut in the matter of double-judgeships. It all happened in 1949, too. At that time Gov. Chester Bowles named Democratic successors to Republican judges, and the Republicans refused to quit for a time.

At the start of the court week yesterday, the Republican judges showed up to claim their jobs formally, withdrew when the Democrats refused to recognize them.

Atlanta

ASHEVILLE (N.C.) Citizen (Ind.-Dem.): "The seeming confusion over the equality doctrine for common and graduate schools needs authoritative clarification. Meanwhile, the layman may thus conclude his estimate of what the courts are saying . . . ; the courts will uphold the Negro graduate in his claim to all possible advantages in the superior environment of the white school. The courts will not, however, on a nebulous theory of equality for children students, issue a ruling that would in all probability gravely disrupt the public-school system in many states. Such a ruling may come some day, but apparently not now; which is in accord with the wisdom of history and man's evolution."

Caroline Osborn of Columbus visited last week with her grand-

LITTLE ROCK Gazette (Ind.-Dem.): "The decision of the special court will doubtless be unsatisfactory to zealots on both sides of the segregation issue. Those Negroes and whites of the persuasion of the NAACP will not settle for anything less than the final and absolute end of local segregation. And there are still many ardent Southerners who are not willing to accept even the 'separate but equal' theory. But to the majority of Southerners of both races, we believe, the South Carolina decision will seem sound and reasonable."

How to make Wise Tracks to a Beauty

How do you buy a new car?

Are you one of those people who buy on love at first sight?

Or do you check cars feature for feature, price for price—then pick the one that gives you the most for your money?

Whichever you are, we'd like to suggest that you come in and see our 1951 Buicks.

It's a sure bet that you'll go for the swift, smart look of a SPECIAL, SUPER or ROADMASTER—you'll fall seriously in love with the pace and power of its bonnet-filling engine. And it's a cinch you'll go for the room and richness of those Buick interiors—the serene smoothness of Dynaflow Drive* and all-coil springing.

But don't let your emotion be the only judge—be sure to get the practical picture too.

Note that the power that gives you such a big kick here comes from Buick's famed valve-in-head Fireball Engine—which means you get a lot of miles from each gallon of gas you buy.

Note that the silken ease you enjoy with Dynaflow* goes hand in hand with real money savings in maintenance costs.

Above all, note what a Buick's price tag includes—how much more sheer automobile you get in a Buick than the same money would buy elsewhere.

How about making tracks to our showroom right soon—checking thoroughly into the matter—and see if you don't fall in love with a smart-buy Buick?

FUNDS NOW AVAILABLE

State Report Tells Why Local Dam Is 'Unsafe'

While operations leading up to the reconstruction work necessary to put the Pickaway County Lake dam in working order are just beginning, the state department of natural resources has issued its first official report on the troublesome earth-filled dam.

Although having been outdated in part even before its publishing, the report is the first official account of the situation which has been made by the resources department.

The state legislature has released $150,000 in funds for the reconstruction necessary for putting the Devil's Backbone dam into shape.

Even though the funds were made available to the resources department as of July 1, actual construction may be held up until next Spring because of planning, bid-letting and other red tape.

Here is the first official report of the local lake released by the department:

"Located northeast of Circleville on Hargus Creek. Drainage area 6.5 square miles, lake area 1.1 acres. Although the watershed area is small the stream gradient is steep and runoff is rapid. The dam is an earthen levee about 1100 feet long, 20 feet wide on top. The top of the levee is five feet above the spillway. The depth of water in the lake will be 52 feet at the levee."

The concrete spillway consists of a weir 82 feet long and 10 feet wide. The weir discharges into a concrete chute. Clearing of the lake bed has been finished.

C. C. Chambers, a consulting engineer who is being employed by the department to investigate the conditions affecting the safety and adequacy of the various dams constructed by the former Division of Conservation, has reported that a peak inflow into the lake of 11,300 cubic feet per second can be expected. The existing spillway is capable of discharging only 5,500 cubic feet per second. The existing spillway must be enlarged and the connecting chute redesigned. The floor of the chute is showing evidence of deterioration even though it has never been put to use.

The earth levee should be raised an additional three feet. Some corrective work must be done to the 'y-pass pipe' which in this case is a reinforced concrete box.

The estimate of cost for the necessary work is $200,000."

THIS REPORT was one of six made by the department on new lake projects where the dams were improperly designed and constructed.

Total estimated cost for reconstruction projects on the six dams, including the local project, was set at $1,187,000. All of the dams were reported inadequate and unsafe.

In addition to the actual report of the inadequacies of the local dam, the department also has reported assignment of $3,500 for shelter and toilets at the lake site; $14,500 for additional improvements; and $16,700.79 for the fish management and propagation activities necessary to make the lake desirable to sportsmen.

The state report was made to include the period between Aug. 11, 1949 and June 30 of 1950.

Brudzinski Ties With Fuhrman For Golf Test Honors

Steve Brudzinski and George Fuhrman tied for top honors Wednesday during a men's handicap golf match at Pickaway Country Club.

Brudzinski, coach of the 1951 Circleville high school state championship golf team, carded a 79 for his 18-hole round, settling for a final 68-stroke card after applying an 11 stroke handicap.

Fuhrman tied for first place with Brudzinski by shooting a 75, seven-stroke handicap for a 68 total.

Date Yates and John Teal tied for third in the match with 69's. Yates shot a 96, 27-handicap 69 while Teal hit an 83, 14-handicap 69.

Circleville Teacher Bob Fricke paced the field of 32 contestants during the match to earn medalist honors with a dazzling under-par 70-stroke performance.

Second in medalist competition was Fuhrman with a 75, while Claire Saxton ranked in third place with a 76.

Good Time Eyes $25,000 Derby

WESTBURY, N. Y., July 5—Good Time hopes to become the first two-time winner of the National Pacing Derby tonight at Roosevelt Raceway.

The Good Time Stable's five-year-old champion won the $25,000 event last year and hopes to add $11,500 to his present earnings of $164,000.

A field of ten is slated to go to the post for the big event with Royal Blackstone and Scottish Pence rated as the most serious threats to Good Time.

8-Year Angus-Hereford Crossbreeding Survey Completed

Ag Station Husbandman Gives Data

Increased Profits Said Assured

Pickaway County beef cattle breeders, who are considering cross-breeding as a means of increasing profits from their herds, might well review the results of an eight-year project recently completed at the Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station.

Paul Gerlaugh, animal husbandman at the station, has reported that in a cross-breeding with purebred Aberdeen Angus and purebred Hereford herds, several advantages and disadvantages were found.

On the basis of this experiment, advantages from crossing Angus bulls on Hereford cows were shorter gestation period, lighter weight calves, less possibility of calving trouble; heavier weaning weights; more rapid daily gain in feed lot; higher dressing percentage; and higher proportion of choice carcasses from the steers. Disadvantages of this cross were less efficient gains in the feed lot and fewer choice carcasses in the cross-bred heifers than in the purebred Hereford heifers.

Advantages of crossing Hereford bulls on Angus cows were heavier weaning weights for crossbred heifers over purebred Angus heifers; greater daily gains on pasture and in the feed lot for the heifers; greater daily gain, birth to weaning, for the crossbred heifers; more efficient use of feed in feed lot; increased dressing percentage, and increased proportion of choice carcasses.

DISADVANTAGES of this cross were longer gestation period, heavier calves at birth, and lighter weight crossbred steers than purebred Angus steers.

This test was conducted with two herds, half of each consisting of purebred Aberdeen Angus cows and half of purebred Hereford cows. Each year, one herd was bred to an Angus bull, the other herd to a Hereford bull. The next year, the bulls were switched to the alternate herd. This provided a purebred and crossbred calf from each cow for each two-year period.

At the end of each two years, a new pair of bulls were used with the breeding program described being repeated. The test was continued for four two-year periods.

Data were obtained on gestation periods, birth weights, gains, birth to weaning, gains on pasture, performance in the feed lot, dressing percentage, and carcass grades.

This material has been published in Research Bulletin 703, Crossbreeding Beef Cattle, A Comparison of the Hereford and Aberdeen Angus Breeds and Their Reciprocal Crosses, by the Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station. A copy may be obtained by writing the Mailing Room, Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station, Wooster.

City Building Painting Praised

Circleville city council Tuesday wanted a question answered before releasing words of praise for a coat of white trim given City Building.

The question was asked by Councilman E. L. Montgomery: "Who did the work, and where

Kored Radio Says West Is Brought To Heel

TOKYO — (Thursday) — The Communists Radio claimed today that the Reds won the Korean war.

Pongyang radio declared United Nations forces were brought to heel militarily and therefore "American imperialists" had to order Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway to seek a cease-fire.

The broadcaster charged "British and American warmongers" had prevented the Communist-desired unification of Korea so that they could instigate a civil war in Korea, interfere and try to conquer the country and turn it into a colony and base for further aggression in Asia.

But, claimed the broadcaster, the vaunted Western air and sea power was broken against the "unlimited strength" of the Korean people.

The broadcast said:

"During the past year the Korean people showed in their battle for the liberation of their fatherland that the power of our fight for independence and unification is stronger than the American and British warmongers."

did the money come from?" It was answered by Service Director John Neuding:

"The work was done by the janitor, Albert Amsbaugh, and the material was furnished by the service department."

"Fine," said Montgomery. "It's a commendable piece of work."

Medical Expense Bill For Thief Shot Here Shunned By Councilmen

Circleville city council Tuesday balked at paying $334 hospital and medical expenses for a non-Circleville auto thief who was shot by local police last May after a wild chase.

The man, Robert Lee Reno, 22, of Florida, was downed by Officers Carl Thompson and John White after he attempted to flee afoot.

A .38 caliber slug pierced the upper part of Reno's left leg, lodged in the knee joint. He was taken to Berger hospital for treatment.

And Tuesday city council received the bill for that treatment: $204 hospital charges and $150 for the services of a Columbus surgeon.

Said Councilman Ray Cook:

"PERSONALLY I don't think it's the city's responsibility to pay for that. If it is a governmental responsibility to pay for it, then I think the cost should be split three or four ways."

The eastend councilman added that if the city was expected to pay for injuries sustained by persons attempting to evade police capture, "then it would be better to station patrolmen at each traffic light with green flags to wave him through."

"Or else furnish them with pistol," suggested Councilman Walden Richelieu.

The matter was turned over to City Solicitor George Gehardt with instructions to investigate the matter thoroughly.

Gehardt told the legislators that he did not believe the city was required to pay the expenses.

"In this case I would rather see the city sued than pay the bill. The man who was shot was not even a resident of the state."

FIRST REPORT to Circleville police on the stolen car was given by Councilman Ray Anderson on the evening of the shooting.

Anderson reported to police that a motorist southbound on U. S. Route 23 was approaching Circleville and crowding other cars off the highway. The police took over from there.

One councilman suggested with a grin that the bill "be sent to Anderson, since he's the one that started the thing in the first place."

The auto driven by Reno was stolen in Detroit.

Mid-June Farm Prices Decline Some In Month

CINCINNATI, July 5—The Federal-State Crop Reporting Service reports that the mid-June prices of farm products in Ohio was slightly lower than the previous month, but nearly 25 percent greater than the same month a year ago.

Declines in agricultural commodities on the whole were offset by moderate increases in the prices of hogs, beef cattle and eggs during the month.

At the same time, seasonal decreases in Ohio wholesale milk prices during May were somewhat greater than last year.

However, producer deliveries to Ohio milk plants showed a relatively sharp seasonal increase in May.

17 Are Injured By Fireworks

CINCINNATI, July 5—A 17-year-old Cincinnati boy is near death today because a wind-blown aerial bomb exploded, injuring 16 persons in a crowd of 10,000 watching a fireworks display in suburban Cheviot.

Three other persons are in critical condition and an additional 11 still are hospitalized. Five of the injured were released after treatment.

Alvin Doerger is fighting for his life against a broken right leg, which also has a long gash in it; severe cuts on his right hip and arm; shock, and many other cuts and burns.

Mystery Death Being Probed

COLUMBUS, July 5—Police launched an investigation today

into the mysterious circumstances under which an 85-year-old Columbus woman died late last night.

The woman, identified as Mrs. Agnes M. Kinzer, was found dead in her home shortly after she was heard shouting: "Help! Murder! Murder!"

Police said E. A. Paul, a passerby, heard the woman's cries from a second floor window and told them he heard a thud as she fell backward away from the window.
